

Leaflet:

Generation of the legally relevant executable programs

Manufacturers submitting source code files, in the framework of a conformity assessment procedure at PTB, shall submit, before the conclusion of the conformity assessment, the enclosed declaration. It shall state that the type of the legally relevant executable programs has been generated, without exception, from the submitted source code files.

The declaration shall contain the following information:

- (1) Company name and address of the issuer of the declaration (manufacturer);
- (2) Name of the type to which the legally relevant executable programs belong;
- (3) Listing of all source code and accessory files (libraries, drivers, etc.) (as far as possible), and mentioning of the legally relevant executable programs with their identifiers;
- (4) Listing of all the legally relevant executable programs with their identifiers, as to be incorporated into the certificate;
- (5) Date on which the legally relevant executable programs were generated for the files specified in (3);
- (6) Serial number or other identifiers of the type on which the programs referred to in (4) are located;
- (7) Type and labelling of the data carrier on which the files specified in (3) are submitted to PTB;
- (8) The statement that the programs indicated in (4) have been generated from the files specified in (3);
- (9) Signature (Project leader).

Example

Declaration for the generation of the legally relevant executable programs (Manufacturer's declaration)

- | | |
|---|--|
| (1) Company name and address: | [Company name and address] |
| (2) Name of the type: | [Name of the type] |
| (3) Source code and accessory files
with their identifiers: | [Listing or reference to an attachment] |
| (4) Legally relevant executable programs
with their identifiers: | [Listing or reference to an attachment] |
| (5) Date of generation: | [Date] |
| (6) Identifiers of the type: | [Listing] |
| (7) Type and labelling of the data carrier: | [Type and labelling of the data carrier] |

The undersigned declares that the legally relevant executable programs listed in (4) on the type specified in (6), submitted for the conformity assessment, have been generated exclusively from the source code and accessory files named in (3), on the data carrier indicated in (7).

[Place], [Date]

[Signature]